

Certificate of Sustainability Efforts

We take pride in certifying that Axel Larsson AB actively participates in sustainability initiatives. We firmly believe that sustainability is a cornerstone of our business strategy and work diligently to enhance our sustainability efforts across all aspects of our organization.

In pursuit of transparency and improvement, we have strategically partnered with Ecovadis to objectively assess our sustainability strategy. Ecovadis is a globally recognized platform, providing a thorough and unbiased evaluation process for companies' sustainability performance, extending throughout their entire supply chain. Through meticulous data collection and analysis, Ecovadis offers users invaluable insights and assessments encompassing the environmental, social, and ethical aspects of their business operations. These assessments serve as a tool to identify strengths, pinpoint areas for improvement, and champion sustainability principles and responsible business practices throughout the entire supply chain.

Our annual certification with Ecovadis ensures an impartial and credible portrayal of our sustainability efforts. Consequently, we choose to refrain from additional sustainability-related documentation. With Ecovadis, we actively strive to meet our customers' sustainability performance requirements with thoughtfulness and professionalism.
